

STOOD OFF TOWN IN BANK'S VAULTS
After Chloroform Failed Populace Turned On Electricity to Rout Raving Farmer.

FURY OVER FAMILY AFFAIRS
Inflamed Beyond Self-Control, William Leduc Kills Bank Cashier and Another.

(By Associated Press.)
CHENOA, Ill., Oct. 28.—William Leduc, a farmer, enraged over domestic affairs, to-day shot and killed Mayor Charles Nickel, his brother-in-law, in the bank of Chenoa, and Hugh Jones, a bricklayer; slightly wounded two pedestrians, and, dragging Jones' body into the bank vault, partly closed the door and dolted arrest for many hours against officers and citizens, with whom he exchanged scores of shots. Up to a late hour Leduc had not been captured.
Leduc, well-armed, came in from his farm this afternoon, walked into the bank, and, without warning, shot Nickel, who is cashier of the bank as well as mayor, dead. Hugh Jones, Cashier Nickel's son, and another boy were in the bank. The boys escaped through a back door. Jones attempted to grapple with Leduc, and was shot. Two men passed along the street, and Leduc, apparently feeling that they might attempt to capture him, shot them, one in the head, the other in the hand, but their wounds are not serious.
An immense crowd, armed, gathered in the bank in an attempt to capture the slayer, but Leduc, within the vault with Jones' body, would allow no one to come within range of his weapon. Leduc told officers that Jones was dead. Ammunition and chloroform were used plentifully in an attempt to overcome Leduc, but the partly open door admitted enough air to thwart the effect of the drugs.
Sheriff Edwards and deputies arrived later, but Leduc, who is well supplied with ammunition, withstood the attack of the officer. High voltage electricity wires have been strung from the electric light plant to the bank, and, unless Leduc surrenders within a few hours, it is planned to render Leduc helpless by connecting the wires with the bank vault and turning off the current as soon as it is determined that Jones is dead.

DEMOCRATS PUT IN HEAVY LICKS

Slms Democratic Club, under whose auspices the meeting was held. He was introduced by Commonwealth's Attorney R. L. Lindsay. In a brief speech, which was full of warmth and praise:
"You will find him, said Mr. Gordon, a Democrat of Democrats, whether in the sunshine of victory or in the shadow of defeat. He is a man loved and trusted by his people, and I believe the time will come when they will give him some substantial evidence of the respect and esteem in which they hold him."
The Governor spoke for over an hour, and his remarks often provoked enthusiastic cheering.
Among his auditors was former Governor William E. Cameron, of Petersburg, who is visiting his son here.
Much Interest
Great interest had been manifested in the Governor's coming by the ladies of the town as well as by the Democratic managers. The Sins' Democratic Club circulated handbills announcing the event, and the Democratic women of the town determined to do their part, elaborately decorated the court room with bunting, flags and flowers, and when the Governor entered, his reception upon a scene which was at once inspiring.
The judge's stand, from which he spoke, was fairly wrapped in Virginia and national colors, while in the background was stretched a large and handsome painted picture of the seal of Virginia.
Potted plants were all about the distinguished speaker, while roses and gladioli were upon the stand in great profusion.
From the walls on every side were streamers of national colors and State and National flags, waving here and there about the room. Within the space set apart for the bar were a large number of Louisiana's fairest daughters, and they joined heartily in the splendid reception accorded the brilliant Virginia Executive.
Fine Auditorium.
The court-room here furnishes an ideal place in which to speak. The building is new, and is one of the handsomest and most conveniently appointed in Eastern Virginia. Governor Montague arrived from Richmond this afternoon, and is the guest of County Clerk J. J. Porter, between whom and His Excellency there has long existed a warm personal friendship.

The Governor will return to Richmond to-morrow afternoon, arriving in the city at 3:30 o'clock.
The Sims Democratic Club is doing a splendid work for the ticket this fall, and from all I can gather by talking with the leaders here the county will do her full duty for the ticket on election day.
The organization, which was instrumental in giving Governor Montague such a royal reception to-night, was named in honor of former Judge F. W. Sims, the idol of the Louisiana Democracy, and the nominee for the Senate in this (the Thirteenth) district.
There is no doubt of the wonderful effect of Governor Montague's powerful speech here to-night upon the weak-kneed and unwary, and it is true as well that it has fired the hearts of those who are already ardent supporters of the ticket, and stimulated them to greater effort in the cause of Democracy.
The town people showed the deepest possible interest in the meeting, and the Governor was received everywhere and at all times with the utmost cordiality and extended that character which tallies with the Virginia pride in themselves.
Governor Speaks.
Upon being presented in a highly eulogistic manner by Mr. Gordon, the Governor was warmly greeted by the audience as he arose to speak. For this he made great acknowledgment and proceeded to discuss the issues in a most attractive manner. He did not dwell long upon national issues.
Taking up the promises of the Republicans to give the people honest elections, the Governor said: "This little thing we call honesty is in the hearts of the people at last, and I believe the Democratic party of Virginia has its face set towards affording the people of this State an honest ballot, fairly and honestly counted. If the Republican party will give us honest elections in Virginia, I ask you that that party not given an honest ballot in States where they have been in control."
The speaker pointed out the frauds in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and finally referred to the fact that this party that was now talking of honest elections had distorted the presidential returns in 1876 and perverted the will of the American people.
"Judge Lewis says his is a new party," continued the speaker. "I ask how can it be new unless it has progressed, and how can it have progressed but for the new Constitution made by the Democratic party?"
The Governor spoke eloquently of the strides being made by the Virginia people, both in a material and governmental way, and he called attention to the fact that taxes had been reduced; State bonds placed above par; the schools greatly improved, and the Confederate soldiers well cared for.
"So I say to you, my fellow citizens," he went on, "the Democratic party comes before the people of this Commonwealth with a clear bill of health."
Increased Revenue.
The Governor spoke of the treasury and the vast revenue brought in by the Corporation Commission, and continuing said, and thank you my friends, all this was done by the Republican and over Republican protest and under Republican denunciation. He spoke of building the new penitentiary, the new capitol and the improvements to the various public buildings all over the State. He praised the results of the constitution upon the insane institutions and said the unfortunate there now are being cared for far better than ever before. Coming to a more elaborate discussion of the free school system and the claim that the Republican establishment of the Government provided for the under-taxed, which meant the death of public education in the State. He said that Dr. Ruffner, a Democratic superintendent, had done more for the school system than any man up to his time, and then he showed how the schools have prospered and progressed under Democratic rule.
The Governor declared that the Republican plan for free books was a bold and a noble one, and that he would ever write, I want a horse he said to pull a cart before I'll choose a cart when I've no horse. Free books means shorter sessions and poorly paid teachers and would be a distinct blow at public education.
Travelling Libraries.
In speaking of the subject of education generally the Governor said he would recommend to the Legislature before his retirement from office a bill to provide for a travelling library as a part of the present State Library System, and the suggestion seemed to meet with general approval.

The speaker reminded his hearers that the Democratic party had passed the employer's liability bill upon the great principle of justice between man and man.
He earnestly pleaded for the people to and inspiration to the Democracy of the names from Mr. Swanson to Judge Sims and Mr. Halley, the local candidate, and this appeal was warmly cheered. I have found no difficulty in serving my party, he said, I have experienced nothing but delight in serving my dear old Mother Commonwealth.
May Not Again Appear.
I may never appear before the people of Virginia to make public addresses after this campaign, but this is our party and our fight, and I have journeyed up to Louisa to ask you to join in giving a victory for that party this fall, which will sound throughout the country.
My convictions are so deeply grounded and my faith so strong in Democratic principles that more personal disappointments can not make them waver. I am not a Democrat for place; I am not a Democrat who sulks and I shall hope to see a triumph of our principles on election day which will give hope and inspiration to the Democracy of the other States of this Union.
The Governor, closed with a soul stirring peroration, at the end of which there was prolonged cheering.

DOWING MAKES GOOD: BRAXTON MISSED
Lancaster Man Makes a Great Speech and Creates Enthusiasm.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MARTINSVILLE, Va., Oct. 28.—This has been a gala day with Democrats in Henry county. The barbecue served at noon at Banner Warehouse was excellently cooked and splendidly served. Seventeen hundred were present, and the place in front of the Warehouse, where there were about one thousand present, among whom were many ladies. The meeting was called to order by County Chairman R. W. Blair, who introduced Mr. T. Downing, of Lancaster. Downing, the speaker, after expressing his pleasure at being on the soil of Henry for the first time and appropriating to himself the compliment which he said the ladies intended for Mr. Braxton in coming out. He began his address by declaring he stood for old-time Democracy, and alluded to the splendid record that the party had made in Virginia for the last twenty years, and asked what the Republican party in the State had done that they should be placed in power, and declared the Constitutional Convention had paid them back for all services by giving them a coat of whitewash.
He complimented President Roosevelt on his Democratic tendencies, which were making him popular. He alluded to the fact that a Senator had been elected, and mentioned Martin, which evoked considerable applause. He referred to the candidates for Senate and House in Henry, and urged upon his hearers the duty of supporting them.
He opposed the free school book proposition of the Republicans, declaring that if they were in earnest their proposition was unconstitutional. He spoke of Jefferson, the patron saint of Democracy, as the father of the free school system in Virginia; showed that the Democrats had put the system in operation four years before they were required under the constitution to do so; declared that though the Republicans now claimed to be Lillie White, they were the same old party still.
He was especially severe in his allusion to reconstruction days and the formation of the Underwood Constitution. He said that fifty-four out of one hundred and five members of the convention were negroes, and they had to send to Illinois to get a man to pray for them. He denounced the effort of that body to disfranchise white men and put the iron-clad oath on them. He alluded to the Jones-Lewis controversy, declaring Judge Lewis was denying that he had never been in charge of the school system, and could not deny the law making it a crime for races to inter-marry in his famous Chesterfield speech. He said he ought to have turned black when he said it. He alluded to Swanson as a star risen in the West, which wise men from the East had come to worship, complimented the ladies highly, saying they were always right, and closed with a beautiful tribute to Virginia, her history and her resources.

He held the close attention of the crowd for an hour and a half. He told several anecdotes and received considerable applause. He made a fine impression. The crowd was large and good-humored.
The cause of Democracy was much strengthened by the events of the day. The double band was present, and discussed fine music. Braxton missed his train in Roanoke, causing much disappointment by his failure to reach here.
SWANSON HAS GREAT OVATION AT SALEM
The Next Governor in Fine Form and Surpasses Himself.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SALEM, Va., October 28.—There has probably never been a city or county in Virginia that ever had a greater and more glorious occasion than Salem had to-day. The weather could not have been better, and from early in the day until about 11 o'clock, people poured in from every section of Roanoke county, from Roanoke city and the adjoining counties, until there were at least 5,000 persons gathered to participate in the greatest political event that has ever transpired in this section of Virginia.
The local committee, under the management of C. L. Hatcher, had done its work well. The speakers' stand in the courtyard, as well as the public building, was decorated with bright colors, and every section of the town wore a holiday appearance.
The dinner, from which dinner was served, were appropriately arranged, and a full and ample dinner was prepared for at least 10,000 people. From conservative estimates, the crowd must have numbered at least 5,000 people—the largest crowd that has ever gathered in Southwest Virginia.

Commonwealth from the days of Republican reconstruction.
Mr. Swanson dealt in no personalities and in no bitterness, but confined himself solely to the public records of the Republican candidates and the history of the Republican legislation in Virginia and the record the Democratic party has made during the twenty-one years of its control of Virginia's affairs. This was a glorious day for the Democracy of Roanoke county, and from the appearance of things here to-day it would seem that there is not a vestige left of the respect and esteem of the Republican party in the county of Roanoke.
Senator Thomas S. Martin was to be here, but owing to some unforeseen occurrences, he could not be present. This is the only thing in the day's experiences that is to be regretted.
CONGRESSMAN JONES SPEAKS IN MATTHEWS
Declares That Lewis's Position Against Hundley's Charge a Miserable Quibble.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MATTHEWS, C. H., Va., Oct. 28.—Congressman W. A. Jones addressed a large and enthusiastic audience of Democrats here to-day. He never spoke more earnestly or forcefully, and for two hours held the undivided attention of his audience. He urged upon all those Democrats who supported the successful campaign of the Democracy.
Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be albuminous, or flesh-forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals. In other words, the kinds of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of fare.
But the trouble is that while we eat enough, and generally too much, the stomach does not make a regular practice of taking, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural stomach acids, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to reach its natural tone and vigor.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food—meat, eggs, bread and potatoes—and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.
Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit, as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartics nor any harmful ingredients.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles, because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada, as well as Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment, and 25 cents for a trial bottle. It is the only stomach trouble-maker to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

FERGUSON BROS.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTE, C. H., Va., October 28.—Congressman H. D. Flood and Senator A. P. Thomas addressed the people at Wyllisburg to-day at 12 o'clock. The speakers were introduced by Delegate Berkley D. Adams in a brief but ringing speech, urging all his friends to support the entire Democratic ticket. Messrs. Flood and Thomas made splendid speeches, which will result in much good for the cause of Democracy.
They both discussed the Republican record, comparing it with that of the Democrats, and scored the Republicans for their misdeeds. They discussed the schoolbook question at great length. They also referred to the graft and corruption in the Republican party. The insurance companies scandals were referred to. The speakers made earnest appeals to the voters to stand by the Democratic party and support its nominees.
After the speaking an old-fashioned barbecue was served to the large crowd present. Mr. Flood spoke to-night to the Swanson and Green Club at Charlotte Courthouse. His speech was well received. After the speaking many new members were enrolled and an ovation was enjoyed. Charlotte county Democrats are being aroused, and the county will give a good majority for the Democratic ticket. Governor Montague and H. J. Aiston Cabell will speak at next court, November 8th.

Say "Yes" To This Offer, and See the Good You Will Get.

Write us if you are ready to try Liquezone. Let us buy the first bottle for you. Let the product itself prove the good it can do.

You who are waiting don't know what you miss. There are plenty to tell you if you would ask; for millions have already used it. Some use it to get well, some to keep well. Some to cure germ diseases; some as a tonic. You will use it as they do, when you learn what the product does. And you will then regret that you delayed so long.

What Liquezone Is.
The virtues of Liquezone are derived solely from gases. The formula is so simple that the process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. It is digested by chemists of the highest class. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

Contrast with Liquezone any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquezone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poison when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquezone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

We purchased the American rights to Liquezone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. To-day there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquezone has done.

But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In late years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—that Liquezone can do.

Where It Applies.
These are the diseases in which Liquezone has been most employed. In these diseases it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

Also most forms of the following:
Kidney Troubles, Liver Troubles, Blood Poison, Hay Fever, Influenza, Fever, Inflammation or catarrh—impure or poisoned blood—usually indicate a germ attack. In nervous debility Liquezone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing remarkable results.

50c. Bottle Free.
If you need Liquezone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you to let the product itself show you what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligations whatever.
Liquezone costs 50c and $1.
